

MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT OVERVIEW

The mathematics department strives to develop an understanding of the nature and structure of mathematics through problem solving and analytical activities. Engaging the students in these activities, this department believes that the skills learned can be applied to other disciplines. The development of these critical thinking skills enhances the ability of the student to reason and to communicate.

